During the post-monsoon season of 2017, Adventure Consultants will operate an expedition to climb three of Nepal’s most popular trekking peaks; Island Peak (6,189m/20,305ft), Pokalde (5,806m/19,049ft) and Lobuche East (6,119m/20,075ft). The Three Peaks Nepal expedition crosses the high Kongma La Pass between peaks and completes a fabulous circuit of the upper Khumbu tributaries, before returning to Namche Bazaar and back to Lukla.

About the Expedition

The Three Peaks Expedition offers an opportunity to partake in a journey that covers a lot of terrain and enables you to make multiple ascents on peaks of moderate elevation. Participants should have a background in basic mountaineering or a history of physical exercise that can be applied to energetic trekking, and the moderate altitude mountaineering that defines this expedition. Instruction in mountaineering will be provided to ensure the requisite skills are gained prior to the climbing commencing. Each ascent involves a modicum of technical climbing at times where the use of crampons, ice axe and fixed ropes will be encountered.

This journey has many visual highlights with stunning views of the surrounding Himalayan peaks of Everest, Cho Oyu, Nuptse, Lhotse, Makalu, Ama Dablam and many, many more. Island Peak, the highest of the Three Peaks, is referred to by the local Sherpa people as Imja Tse – an ‘Island in a glacial sea’ is an exciting and popular peak involving climbing on snow and ice on the upper sections. The view from the summit towards Ama Dablam and the south wall of Nuptse / Lhotse is awe-inspiring.
Energised from the ascent of Island Peak, we turn next to Pokalde. A pretty hike takes the team to a spectacular high camp near some alpine lakes, high on the Kongma La Pass and one of the most picturesque locations in the entire Himalaya. Directly across the valley lies Ama Dablam, the jewel of the Khumbu Valley and one of the wonders of Nepal. The climb to the top of Pokalde from this camp is not so far as for Island Peak, but on cresting the 5,806m (19,049ft) summit you are blessed with eye-boggling panoramic views around the upper reaches of the Khumbu and Imja Khola Valley systems.

Lobuche East is an ideal progression albeit a little more technical, involving the ascent of long snow/ice slopes of moderate angle. The climbing is protected by fixed rope that our guide and Sherpa team will fix prior to the ascent. This mountain is a little more alpine in nature and involves slightly more exposure than the previous two climbs, making it a great peak on which to finish the trilogy. The high camp is dramatic with exceptional views towards Cholatse, Taweche and Ama Dablam, especially at sunset when the peaks turn pink as the sun sets into Tibet. We climb to the far eastern summit on the summit ridge, a subsidiary of the high peak. These are very do-able climbs for anyone in good shape and with a desire for high adventure.

Trip Outline

This twenty-six day expedition commences when you arrive into Kathmandu, Nepal on the November 10. We will spend the next day sorting equipment and holding a team briefing about the journey ahead and making our final preparations. On day three, we fly to Lukla at the gateway to the Khumbu Valley.

The expedition will stay at Sherpa lodges whilst we are trekking in the valleys on the way to each of the climbing objectives. On each of the peaks, we will establish our Base Camp, where our talented kitchen crew will cater for us. On our trek up the famous Khumbu Valley, we will visit monasteries and small villages on the same route that Everest climbers have taken for over 50 years.

Near the head of the Imja Tse Valley, Island Peak enjoys spectacular views of the North side of Ama Dablam and the sweeping flanks of Nuptse along with the world’s fourth highest peak, Lhotse. In preparation for Island Peak, we first climb Chhukung Ri which in itself is a fair hike to altitude at 5,550m on a day trip from the township of Chhukung. We then cross the glacier via a trail to Island Peak Base Camp. The climb of Island Peak involves some scrambling up rocky terrain to reach low angled glaciers that we walk up until the angle increases. From here we ascend via 40-degree slopes on fixed ropes. After a time, we reach the exposed summit ridge and we enjoy the security of the ropes all the way to the summit. We will start the climb from Base Camp in the early hours of the morning. Preceding the summit attempt will be...
coaching on fixed rope techniques and enjoying acclimatisation hikes on nearby peaks.

From Island Peak Base Camp, we will drop back below Chhukung and then up to our camp below Pokalde and the Kongma La. Watch the sun dip below the horizon and feel the allure of a down jacket and warm sleeping bag! In the morning you will pack up and head off to climb Pokalde just on sunrise.

Following our descent down the Western slopes of the Kongma La, we establish our Lobuche Base Camp. Depending on weather conditions, we elect to either have a rest day or move up to a high camp on Lobuche East, which lies on a small expanse of grass and rock above a deep blue lake. Then it’s early to bed for another alpine start the following morning.

Our early start (around 2.30am) sees us climbing the South East Ridge, which is a mixture of snow and ice. Where necessary, we fix ropes along the route and steady climbing will bring us to the far eastern summit.

From the top, we are well rewarded with superb views across to Ama Dablam, Makalu, Lhotse, Everest, Nuptse, Changtse, Pumori, Gyachung Kang and Cho Oyu. Then it’s time for our descent, all the way back to our Base Camp to celebrate!

After the ascent of Lobuche East, we have an easy walk back down to the tree-line and the village of Pangboche.

From here it’s a descent to Tyangboche and its famous bakery and monastery, before returning to familiar territory once we pass Namche Bazaar on the way down the valley towards Phakding. The thicker oxygen enriched air makes for easy travel with time to stop to enjoy the views or chat to the locals, and there’s also the opportunity to enjoy Namche Bazaar and perhaps even shop around for some of the thousands of items on display, such as the Tibetan rugs, jewellery and gemstones. The next day it’s onwards to Lukla for our final night in the Khumbu, before the flight back to Kathmandu.

This expedition is designed to offer you the best of Nepal at the most reasonable price. Our many years of Himalayan experience allows us to introduce you to the best food, accommodation, destinations and experiences that are available. It’s the small details that make all the difference, and this is where we excel. We provide the most affable and experienced western guides working in conjunction with our excellent Sherpa friends, to promise you an experience of a lifetime!
