This challenging trip serves as an instructional and coaching mountaineering course. It will give you grounding in the most important alpine skills and is set in one of the world's most inspirational classrooms—the Mont Blanc Massif.

The course is aimed at keen hill walkers, trekkers and/or rock climbers who want to experience alpine climbing in a way that will be both informative and enjoyable. This course is also a good preparatory course for our intermediate level Alpine Climbing Course or our range of guided ascents such as Mont Blanc.

Throughout the week, you will climb under the supervision of our experienced and professional guides. This will allow you to learn with confidence while taking in the grandeur of your surroundings.

SKILLS COVERED

- Alpine mountaineering equipment; what to use and how to choose
- Rope work, tying in and basic climbing knots
- Progression over different types of terrain from glacier to rock and ice climbs
- Awareness and avoidance of objective dangers
- Alpine huts; early starts and etiquette

OUR GUIDES

Adventure Consultants guides are BMG, NZMGA and/or IFMGA-UIAGM qualified mountain guides. They are professional mountaineers and operate to the highest industry standards.

Being a technically proficient climber alone is not enough to work with us; our standards demand that trip leaders are great guides with good people skills as well. You will find your guide friendly, approachable and focused on providing a safe and enjoyable trip in line with your objectives and comfort level.

Success with the highest margin of care is always a hallmark of our approach; promoting the realisation that even extreme pursuits such as high-altitude mountaineering can be undertaken safely.

Adventure Consultants only employs IFMGA qualified guides for European ascents and courses and this is the only certification that is recognised in the French Alps. Guides must undergo rigorous training and assessment on climbing skills, instructional skills, avalanche training and assessment, wilderness first aid, rescue training and much more to gain these qualifications. It takes many years to attain IFMGA status, which ensures you are getting a world-class professional service.

DETAILED ITINERARY

Day 0

Arrive in Chamonix , overnight at La Chaumière Lodge.

Day 1

Meet your guide at 8.30am for a team briefing and an equipment check. Collect any rental equipment or purchase last-minute items in town. Take the funicular railway to Montenvers and onto the Mer de Glace Glacier (3,500m/11,500ft) for a training day and an opportunity to become familiar with your equipment. Return to La Chaumière for dinner and overnight.

Day 2

After breakfast, meet your guide at the lodge reception to head out for a morning training session at the Les Gaillands rock crag (1,000m/3,400ft), for alpine boot climbing and rope technical skills. After lunch, take the télécabine and chairlift at le Tour before trekking 3 hours up to the Albert Premier Hut (2,702m/8,864ft).

Day 3

Today is an early start to enjoy the alpine surrounds and climb Tête Blanche (3,707m/12,162ft) and Petite Fourche (3,512m/11,522ft), with a snow craft session in the afternoon if time allows. Overnight at Trient Hut (3,170m/10,400ft) across the border in Switzerland.

Day 4

Another alpine start to tackle the Aiguille du Tour (3,529m/11,578ft) and then descend back to the valley floor and return to Chamonix for the night.

Day 5

Today enjoy riding the famous Aiguille du Midi Lift that rises above Chamonix onto the Mont Blanc Massif and climb in spectacular surroundings on the Arête à Laurence (3,800m/12,500ft). Later in the day, return to Chamonix and celebrate the end of the course. Enjoy your last night at La Chaumière Lodge.

Day 6

Breakfast, a chance to exchange photographs and depart for home.

NOTE: The itinerary may change if conditions are more suitable in another region, or factors such as the weather or lift service preclude access into this region.

2021 COURSE DATES

SCHEDULED DEPARTURES

CIMC 1: June 6–12

CIMC 2: July 4–10

CIMC 3: August 1–7

PRIVATE DEPARTURES

You can also book your own dates to suit during the climbing season—dependent on guide and hut booking availability. Early bookings are essential, especially during the high season mid-July to the end of August.

CLASS SIZE

Our Chamonix Introductory Mountaineering Course is offered on a 1:4 guide to climber ratio, with a minimum of 3 participants.

ACCESS TO THE MOUNTAINS

On our first training day, we catch a return train between Mer de Glace and Chamonix. We then use lifts at Le Tour to access Albert Premier Hut. All lifts on the programme are included in the course cost. If a change in programme forces us to use additional lifts due to weather or other logistical reason, your guide will first consult the group members before committing to the change. In some cases, this may be an additional expense to you.

CLIMBING SEASON

We operate in the Alps mid-June to mid-September and other times as conditions allow. In June and early July, we can expect more snow cover on the routes and as temperatures warm up into the summer months from mid-July, we traditionally experience more settled weather and warmer temperatures.

WEATHER

Europe has a continental climate which generally encourages stable weather. However, in the high mountains weather can be changeable and at times severe. It is possible that this may thwart our programme. However, due to the length of the course and our focus on the forecasts, we may be able to change our itinerary to work around frontal weather systems.

EQUIPMENT

Climbing in the European Alps requires you have high-quality clothing and equipment due to the extremes of weather conditions. Our focus is on having the essential clothing and equipment to keep you warm and comfortable while climbing.

You will be sent an equipment checklist on confirmation of your booking and your guide will go through this with you at the beginning of your trip. You can rent technical equipment for the course but you must provide your own appropriate mountaineering clothing as per the equipment list. Actual equipment taken may vary subject to seasonal weather and route conditions. Group equipment including ropes and technical hardware will be provided by your guide.

COMMUNICATION & MESSAGES

Our guides are in cell phone communication with our operations base throughout the trip. This assists us with schedule and weather forecast updates, lift and accommodation coordination and safety backup. Your own mobile phone should work in the region though you may want to check with your own service provider first. Local mobile phones can be rented at the international airports.

FITNESS & HEALTH

To make the most of your climbing experience, we encourage you to work on your fitness prior to the trip. You will find that training on hills wearing a +10kg/22lb pack is the best preparation for the mountains, with the aim of building your endurance. Your guide will be attuned to your fitness levels and will regulate the pace accordingly.

Our registration form requests that you advise us of any medical problems you may have and any medications you may be taking. Any information you supply will be treated as confidential.

FOOD

Adventure Consultants will provide breakfasts for the duration of the trip and evening meals on the hut nights while the trip is running. This is from breakfast on Day 1 until breakfast on your departure day. You will be responsible for your own lunch and snacks each day, plus evening meals on the non-mountain nights in Chamonix. This allows you to experience the exciting culinary options available in Chamonix as there are many restaurants and bars within close walking distance. Any additional food, bottled water, beverages or meals you purchase that are not mentioned in the inclusions will be at your own expense.

You should bring a selection of your favourite snack food and hydration drinks to ensure you are fuelled for by your preferred brands, as well as money for lunches and snacks whilst in the mountains. Actual amounts depend on your consumption but two per day in addition to your lunch would seem reasonable.

If you have any special dietary requirements, please advise us at the time of registration. If your dietary requirements are especially strict, you are advised to bring a sufficient supply of your required food types with you to ensure you are provided for.

INSURANCE

We strongly recommend that you take out Trip Cancellation Insurance and Travel Insurance, as well as Medical and Rescue Insurance to protect yourself in the event of injury or mishap prior to or during your trip.

While our focus is on safety and our track record supports this, the mountains do have hazards and there is the potential for mishap. Should you be injured whilst on the trip, there is a very efficient rescue service nearby.

TRAVEL TO CHAMONIX

We commence this course in Chamonix, France. The closest international airport is in Geneva, just over the border in Switzerland. Regular shuttles operate between the two and the trip takes about 1.5 hours. Your shuttle will drop you at your accommodation and can take you back to the airport at the end of the course. The shuttle transfers are at your own cost but we arrange this.

ACCOMMODATION

Accommodation is provided on a twin share B&B basis from the evening of Day 0 to the morning of Day 6. Accommodation in the mountains is in alpine huts in shared bunk or dormitory rooms. Blankets are provided and no sleeping bag will be required. There is no single supplement (or private rooms) available in the mountain huts but we can arrange this at an additional cost for Chamonix hotel nights. Please enquire about costs at the time of booking.

PRE-COURSE ACCLIMATISATION PROGRAMME

It is preferable to spend a few days at altitude prior to your scheduled course to assist with your acclimatisation. Climbers regularly attend our Chamonix based Pre-Course Acclimatisation Programme.

The 2-day acclimatisation and re-familiarisation programme takes you on day climbs to high elevations on easily accessible peaks to kickstart your acclimatisation. Please contact our office for further information and costs.
